“Building a More Productive World, Together”

The First Global Infrastructure Forum – December 12-13, 2007
New York, NY
Seven World Trade Center

Washington DC – October 8, 2007 – CG/LA Infrastructure LLC, the world leader in strategic infrastructure consulting, announced today the venue for the upcoming Global Infrastructure Leadership Forum, to be held December 12, 2007. Focused on physical infrastructure opportunities around the world, the GILF will take place at Seven World Trade Center in New York City. “On the local level, Seven World Trade makes an important statement to the world, gives us all a panoramic view of the world's best and most densely packed infrastructure, and – more practically - is the first certified new Green Building in New York City,” says Norman Anderson, President & CEO of CG/LA Infrastructure and the Infrastructure Leadership Forum Platform.

A Platform for Global Projects: The Global Forum is a competitive marketplace for global infrastructure development; all countries and regions are given an opportunity to use the Global Forum platform to promote their priority strategic projects. Projects have been confirmed across 10 countries, including ports & logistics, oil & gas, water & wastewater, electricity generation, urban mass transit, digital infrastructure, tourism and highways. The total estimated project value presented will exceed US$ 150 billion.

Universal Infrastructure Drivers –Mega-Cities and PPP’s: Cities drive infrastructure and mega-cities hyper-drive infrastructure. Two key global cities, New York City and Mexico City, anchor the Global Infrastructure Leadership Forum with others pending. Workshops focus on the Public-Private Partnership model gaining steam around the world.

Speakers – Building a More Productive World, Together: Confirmed speakers include Yukiko Omura, Executive Vice President for MIGA/World Bank and Daniel L. Doctoroff, Deputy Mayor for Economic Development and Director for PLANYC 2030. A senior Africa Development Bank official will moderate a panel dedicated to African infrastructure opportunities.

GILF Sponsorship: The City of Mexico is a confirmed GILF Platinum sponsor. Gold GILF sponsors are Booz Allen Hamilton, the Andean Development Corporation (CAF), Emerging Energy Research, and MIGA/World Bank. Louis Berger is the Silver Sponsor, and Sterne Agee is the local host. Supporting organizations include the Africa Development Bank, Cogen-SP, the Council for Trade & Economic Cooperation (CTEC), and the US Department of Energy.

CG/LA Infrastructure LLC, based in Washington DC, focuses on creating opportunity in the global infrastructure marketplace by assisting countries, regions, and companies to become increasingly competitive in areas of strategic advantage.
